Restrictive and Nonrestrictive Elements

century .

Non-Restrictive Example: The helicopter, with its 100,000-candlepower spotlight illuminating the area, circled above.

Appositives are nouns or pronouns that rename a nearby noun.

Restrictive Example: Rick James' song "Fire It Up" was blasted out of amplifiers ten feet tall.

Non-Restrictive Example: Darwin's most important book, On the Origin of Species, was the result of many years of research.
